EMBARGO ON ARMS LIFTED.

United States Will Let Mexicans Fight to a Finish.

WHEREAS, by proclamation of the president, issued March 4, 1912, under a joint resolution of congress, approved by the president on the same day, it was declared that there existed in Mexico conditions of domestic violence which were promoted by the use of arms or munitions of war procured from the United States, and,

WHEREAS, by the joint resolution above mentioned it thereupon became unlawful to export arms and munitions of war to Mexico except under such limitations and exceptions as the president should prescribe,

Now, therefore, I Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States, hereby declare and proclaim that, as the conditions on which the proclamation of March 4, 1912, have essentially changed, and as it is desirable to place the United States, with reference to exportation of arms and munitions of war to Mexico, in the same position as other powers, said proclamation is hereby revoked.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—President Wilson, by executive order dated today and made public tonight, removed all restrictions against the exportation of munitions of war into Mexico from the United States, placing the contending elements on a basis of equality with respect to the purchase of arms and supplies in this country.

The executive order emphasized it as the desire of the United States to be in the same position of neutrality toward the contending factions of Mexico as other powers. Accompanying the order, the White House issued the following statement of explanations:

"The executive order under which the exportations of arms and ammunition into Mexico is forbidden is a departure from the accepted practices of neutrality and a deliberate departure from those practices under the well-considered joint resolution of congress and determined upon circumstances which have now ceased to exist. It was intended to discourage incipient revolts against the regularly constituted authorities of Mexico.

"Since the order was issued the circumstances of the case have undergone a radical change. There is now no constitutional government in Mexico and the existence of this order hinders and delays everything that the government of the United States is now insisting upon, namely: That Mexico be left free to settle her own affairs as soon as possible and put them under a constitutional footing by their own force and counsel. The order, therefore, was rescinded."

CARRANZA IS MUCH PLEASED. Culiacan, Sinaloa, Feb. 3.—General Carranza and constitutional officials were elated over the report of the lifting of the embargo on munitions of war shipped from the United States to Mexico. The receipt of the news was the signal for a demonstration.

Along the frontier the impression is that the action of the Washington government was in no way the result of a compromise with the revolutionary party in Mexico and that it has been accomplished only through natural effort at Washington.

It was said that Gen. Carranza has had no direct dealings with the Wilson administration since the breaking off of negotiations two months ago at Nogales through William Bayard Hale. Since then it is understood Carranza has assumed a waiting policy and has made absolutely no attempt toward the renewal of negotiations.

CANILLE ITEMS.

Plowing, pruning and setting out trees is the busy process of the day here.

T. B. Titus and wife made a flying trip to Parker Canyon the other day, in their rubber tire.

Quite a number of pupils of School District No. 27, have a light form of measles; no fatalities.

Canille sports a new game besides Flinch. They bet twenty against twenty-one that you won't win.

Recently Mrs. Lucretia Roberts enjoyed a day's outing and a delicious dinner with Mrs. Johnson of Clear View Valley.

P. J. McCarty and his nephew, John Igo, city marshal of Douglas, made a flying trip to Cochise last week, on mining business.

W. T. Roath says Don Franklin and "Uncle" Tom Wills, are not the only pebbles on the beach, as he is some mine owner himself.

Henry Woods, the sage of Canille, has returned from a couple of weeks sojourn in Chihuahua, Mexico. He says he is glad to get home once more.

Mr. William Riggs, cousin of Mrs. Mattie Goodin, paid that lady a visit last week from Wilcox. During his visit Mrs. Goodin and a number of her lady friends had a nice days outing in Mr. Riggs' handsome automobile.
